PIONEERING TECHNIQUE ON USE OF ENDO-STAPLER FOR ENCLOSED COLPOTOMY.

PROSPECTIVE STUDY ON THE USE OF ENDO-STAPLER FOR ENCLOSED COLPOTOMY TO PREVENT TUMOR SPILLAGE IN GYNECOLOGIC ONCOLOGY MINIMALLY INVASIVE SURGERIES

Background and Objectives: This is a prospective trial of the endo-stapler application for vaginal closure before colpotomy in cases of carcinoma endometrium and carcinoma cervix, managed by minimally invasive surgery. Through this study, we aimed to explore short-term oncology outcomes, surgical and functional outcomes, and the efficacy of endo-stapler application in gynecologic malignancy cases managed by MIS.

Methods: This was a prospective, single center study completed between March 1, 2020 and December 31, 2022. A total of 62 patients (43 cases of carcinoma endometrium and 19 cases of carcinoma cervix) were recruited for the study. Oncologic survival outcomes at the end of 1 and 2 years were documented.

Results: There were no major intraoperative bowel, urinary, or vascular injuries. None of the cases required conversion to laparotomy per operatively. Our study had 8 patients with carcinoma endometrium (8/43) and 7 patients of carcinoma cervix (7/19) who have completed 24 months of follow-up without any recurrence to date.

Conclusion:

This is the first prospective trial to date on the application of endo-stapler for vaginal closure before colpotomy in gynecologic malignancy cases managed by MIS with consideration of surgical and oncologic follow-up outcomes. Endo-stapler application for enclosed colpotomy to prevent tumor spillage is a futuristic step in gynecologic oncology cases managed by laparoscopy.

What is Epilepsy?

Epilepsy is a brain disorder that affects anyone, disrupting the brain's energy flow and leading to sudden seizures. These can cause loss of control, falls, rigid limbs, and foaming at the mouth. Epilepsy can result from head injuries, excessive alcohol, or brain tumours.

Common Symptoms of Epilepsy

- Loss of consciousness

- Frequent falls
- Muscle spasms or convulsions
- Unusual sensations, like strange tastes or smells

- Hallucinations, such as seeing imaginary scenes, hearing strange sounds, or feeling something rising from the stomach
- Unconscious actions like pulling at clothes, wandering aimlessly, lip-biting, chewing, or mimicking vehicle-related tasks
- Feeling empty-headed or experiencing tingling in hands and feet
- Talking nonsensically
- Sudden shouting, aggression, or irrational behaviour

Types of Seizures

- Generalised : Affects the entire body simultaneously.
- Focal Seizures : Affect a specific part of the brain and may start as a partial seizure before progressing to a generalised seizure.

Diagnostic Tests for Epilepsy

- MRI/CT Scan : Detects brain abnormalities, such as tumours, injuries, or developmental defects.
- Blood Tests : Identifies underlying medical conditions.

COCCYDYNIA

- Coccyx(Tail Bone) is often injured due to fall
- Patients suffer for a long time and have to undergo lots of restrictions in daily life
- Cause of pain other than trauma is difficult to ascertain
- Imaging studies are difficult to do and interpret
- USG often shows inflammation which is target area for ESWT
- ESWT being noninvasive is acceptable to most patients and can cure this nagging problem

ESWT produces:

- ESWT is a promising treatment which can cure it. This noninvasive procedure involves directing high energy focussed shock waves to the affected area stimulating the body's natural healing process.
- ESWT can effectively alleviate pain and improve function when other treatments have failed.
- By promoting tissue regeneration and reducing inflammation ESWT offers a potential alternative to surgery.

CARDIAC SCIENCE
MARENGO CIMS HOSPITAL

MAPPING THE FUTURE OF CARDIAC CARE

Angioplasty with OCT and IVUS

- Optical coherence tomography allows imaging of the coronary artery in great detail and potentially providing unique insights into coronary artery pathophysiology.
- Intravascular ultrasound is a diagnostic procedure that allows to plan the stent procedure by determining the reference vessel diameter and lesion length, visualizing how well a stent is deployed by assessing stent expansion, and surveying for complications that occur at the edge of stents such as dissection.

Fractional Flow Reserve (FFR)

- Fractional Flow Reserve (FFR) measurement involves determining the ratio between the maximum achievable blood flow in a diseased coronary artery and the theoretical maximum flow in a normal coronary artery. An FFR lower than 0.75 to 0.80 is generally considered to be associated with myocardial ischemia.

STATE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hello all IMA colleagues,

Recent incidence of Kolkata, is alarming. Medical fraternity across India was on road & demanded justice. Similar incidences of lower intensity are widespread. You will notice it every other day.

Physical abuse of doctors is a growing and concerning issue, not only in India but across the globe. Doctors, as well as other healthcare workers, face risks of violence and harassment, particularly in stressful healthcare environments where emotions run high, such as in emergency rooms, ICUs, or during outbreaks of serious diseases. This abuse can manifest in various forms, including verbal threats, physical assaults, and even life-threatening attacks.

Such incidences of mental or physical abuse have deep lifelong detrimental effect on victim & surrounding environment.

Consequences:

- Workplace Environment: A climate of fear and anxiety in hospitals or clinics can reduce the overall quality of patient care and decrease morale.
- Psychological Impact: Doctors subjected to physical abuse may suffer from anxiety, depression, PTSD or burnout, which can diminish their ability to provide effective care.
- Professional Impact: Abuse can lead to skilled professionals leaving the profession early, creating shortages of healthcare workers in regions already facing healthcare challenges.

Measures to Prevent Violence:

- Improved Security: Hiring security personnel, Installing surveillance systems and restricted access areas can protect healthcare workers from sudden outbursts of violence.
- Legislation and Enforcement: Many countries are enacting stricter laws to protect healthcare workers, criminalizing violence against doctors with severe penalties.
- Public Awareness Campaigns: Educating the public on the importance of healthcare workers and fostering a more respectful culture can reduce the likelihood of violence.
- Conflict De-escalation Training: Providing doctors and other healthcare workers with training in conflict resolution can sometimes help to defuse violent situations before they escalate.
- Support Systems: Offering psychological and legal support to healthcare workers who experience abuse is critical in helping them cope and return to work.

The abuse of doctors not only endangers individual lives but also erodes the trust between patients and the medical profession, weakening the overall healthcare system.

So friends, let us fight together, use our resources & provide all forms of protection to the needy doctors. Together we can & we will.

HON. STATE SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

A Proud Moment for Gujarat!

I'm excited to share some great news with you all! Dr. Anil Nayak has been elected as the National President of IMA for 2025-2026, and his uncontested win is a clear sign of his outstanding dedication, determination, and devotion. Dr. Nayak has a unique talent for bringing people together, whether it's through organizing events, alumni gatherings, advocating for doctors, or supporting all medicos as they start their careers or many other ways. His commitment to our community is truly inspiring.

Dr. Nayak's support has been a cornerstone of our collective success. His efforts in uniting us across various activities and challenges have fostered a strong sense of belonging within our medical community. His leadership is a reminder of the strength and solidarity that we share as doctors.

Let's also give warm congratulations to the new office bearers at IMA Headquarters elected from Gujarat.

- Dr. Nitin K. Garg, National Vice President (Elect) 2024-25
- Dr. Yagnesh O. Popat, National Vice President (Elect) 2025-26
- Dr. Dilip B. Gadhavi, Hon Joint Secretary, IMA AKNSI 2024-26
- Dr. Vanrajsinh A. Mahida, Hon. Joint Secretary, IMA CGP 2024-26

Their new roles are a big boost for our organization, and we're looking forward to the fresh ideas and energy they'll bring. It's exciting to see leaders from Gujarat stepping up to make a difference on a bigger stage.

As we celebrate these successes, we must also stand together in tough times. We are deeply saddened by the recent tragic loss of a fellow doctor in Kolkata. This heartbreaking event highlights the urgent need for justice and reform. We must come together to demand accountability and support our colleague affected by this tragedy. Our unity and solidarity are essential in ensuring justice and improving safety for all doctors.

Don't forget, GIMACON, hosted by IMA Rajkot, is just around the corner. This is Gujarat's biggest medical conference of the year and a fantastic chance for all medicos to learn, network, and grow. Make sure to register for GIMACON and take full advantage of this opportunity to connect with peers and experts.

Let's continue to support one another, nurture our sense of belonging, and make a difference by improving the healthcare landscape. Here's to our shared success and making Gujarat proud!

Doctors' strike affects OPDs, planned surgeries

THIS NEWS NETWORK

Ahmedabad: About 1100 private nursing homes and hospitals and government medical colleges observed a bandh on Saturday to protest against the rape and murder of a 31-year-old doctor at Kolkata's RG Kar Medical College & Hospital.

The strike has put an end to attacks on doctors. According to estimates, about 15,000 outpatient department services (OPDs) and 1,100 planned surgeries were affected due to the one-day strike.

Dr. Dushar Patel, president of Ahmedabad Medical Association (AMA), said that all the members of AMA and Indian Medical Association (IMA) supported the one-day strike.

"About 1,600 doctors and medical staff participated from AMA to Mahatma Gandhi Statue on Ashram Road. We also met CM Bhupendra Patel and gave him a memorandum, demanding a strict law to protect doctors," he said.

"We have also demanded facilities for the resident doctors at hospitals."

"About 700 junior and senior resident doctors have been on strike since Friday. We participated in a candlelight Vigil to demand justice for the murdered doctor and security for our colleagues across Gameti," president of Junior In Ambahad.

"Our fight will continue until the law is passed. Doctors will be a conducive environment to save lives."

Dr. Bharat Gadavi president of Ahmedabad Hospitals and Nursing Homes Association (AHNA), said that almost all the member nursing homes and hospitals supported the movement.

"All hospitals ensured that emergency cases and those requiring attention were attended to. But OPDs and planned surgeries were suspended for a day. The Kolkata incident is a matter of grave concern for the medical fraternity. The purpose is to create awareness about the issues faced by the fraternity."

GUJARAT MEDICAL JOURNAL

(Report: by Dr. Kamlesh B. Saini; Hon. Editor, Dr. Harshad C. Patel; Hon. Joint Editor, Dr. Kirit C. Gadhavi; Hon. Secretary)

In this year of our tenure, we could publish two issues of Gujarat Medical Journal (GMJ). The last issue was published on 31st July - 2024. We are happy that now very regularly we are publishing GMJ.

You all know now, that GMJ is indexed in Index Copernicus International" (ICI), and all the issues of GMJ since 2015 can be viewed on; <https://journals.indexcopernicus.com/search/details?id=43553>

G.M.J. has created own website & online portal with use of OJS platform. GMJ has registered with crossref for obtaining DOI for each article individually & are in process of obtaining e-issn.

Obviously the Gujarat Medical Journal should look for impact factor which is the next big thing for any scientific journal. To achieve this we need to put in a lot of efforts. We would like to request all the research minded doctors in Gujarat who are in research field to seriously consider GMJ for their manuscripts. We are also making all efforts to make our journal website at par with any leading medical journal. We hope to bring in many more value added features to our journal within a reasonable period of time. We solicit full support by our members. There suggestions will be valuable to us.

We are thankful to IMA GSB President Dr. Bharat M. Kakadia and Hon. State Secretary Dr. Mehul J. Shah for their whole hearted support during the year. Also we are thankful to Dr. Urvesh Shah (GCS Medical College, Ahmedabad & Dr. Chinmay J. Shah, GMC, Bhavnagar) for helping us in maintaining the Indexation status of our Journal. We are also grateful to IMA GSB Past President Dr. Jitubhai B. Patel, Dr. Kirtibhai Patel, Dr. Mahendrabhai Desai, Dr. Bipinbhai Patel and Dr. Yogendra Modi for their guidance and help.

HOW I DO - Transfusion of Blood Products PART – 4

(All the articles published in past are available at www.shyamhemonclinclin.com/blog/)

Question: In last part, we covered some important points related to cut off for RBC transfusion. I was very surprised to know that 1. Whole blood has no advantage whatsoever over PCV (also known as RCC i.e. red cell concentrate). But has some important disadvantages. 2. Stable outpatients with chronic anemia, and no heart issues, can be maintained at Hb level that they are fairly comfortable i.e. up to even 4 g. 3. For cardiac patients, cut off is about 8 g, and not 10 which many people try to maintain. 4. Even for most patients admitted with active bleeding, a cut off of 8-9 is sufficient. 5. For most other admitted patients, including those in ICU, cut off of 7 is sufficient, as found in multiple trials. No advantage of improving oxygenation by increasing Hb to 9 or 10 or higher. 6. Even for cardiac surgery, preoperative Hb of 7-8 is sufficient.

In fact, this means that most of us have been doing over transfusion, especially for patients with cardiac disease, where we felt Hb should be maintained over 10 or so. Also felt same for ICU patients, especially if on ventilator or respiratory disorders. But your review will help many of us and patients to reduce number of transfusions and associated burden of finding donors, and cost.

Answer: Yes, and in fact, lower Hb cut off as above is associated with better outcomes as well. Not just cost saving. Hope our readers will use these cut offs in practice for both Hb, and earlier described for platelet.

Que: Certainly. And we will spread the message to other clinicians as well. What are other important points that we should know about red cell transfusion?

Ans: 1. For most patients with chronic anemia, don't transfuse more than one or two units in a day, for the first time. They have compensatory hyperdynamic circulation, and more blood transfusion or fluids can precipitate heart failure. Most common such scenario is in nutritional anemia e.g. iron or B12 def. Ideally, of course these patients should be treated without any transfusion. Supplementation alone is sufficient in vast majority.

For those on regular blood transfusions, two units can be given easily on the same day. g.MDS, PRCA...

2. Overall, for most patients 1-2 units is sufficient. There is no need to completely correct anemia by transfusion. And as we have seen last time, Hb cut off for transfusion is generally around 7-8 for most indications. Further improvement in Hb should be achieved by treatment of underlying process.

3. MOST IMPORTANT STEP before transfusion is to ensure that RIGHT BLOOD is given to the RIGHT PATIENT. By ensuring matching of all identifiers on blood unit with patient. Name alone is not sufficient, as two patients can have exactly same names, even when name is unusual. Unique ID used in most large hospitals are best additional identifiers. But in smaller hospitals, where unique ID system may not be available, doctor and hospital staff should be very careful to ensure that multiple identifiers are used for confirmation before transfusion of any blood product.

LARGE MAJORITY OF ABO INCOMPATIBLE BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS ARE IN FACT DUE TO WRONG IDENTIFICATION, rather than mistakes at the level of testing. These are rare nowadays. Wrong identifications are much more of a concern in emergency situations, operation theaters. Elective blood transfusions for any product should preferably be done in day time.

4. Warming of the blood is generally not required. Very specific situations only require blood warming. Warming is unfortunately a common practice however. Warming the blood is done in several different ways and that is unsafe. In those rare situations where blood warming is indicated, this should be done using official blood warmers to ensure blood is not heated too much. Otherwise there is risk of hemolysis. Uncontrolled heating of blood using water etc are dangerous with risk of hemolysis, and contamination both.

5. For the large majority of patients, two units red cell can be easily given on the same day. I still see the practice of one unit per day transfusion very frequently. This is unnecessary burden for patient and family where they have to come for two days, instead of one day.

Routine use of pre medications is not required before blood transfusion.

6. Time to transfuse each unit is about 1-2 hours for most adults. There is no need to prolong it for 3-4 hours. In fact, more than 4 hours is certainly not recommended, as there is higher risk of infections. Blood is stored at very low temperatures, hence bacterial growth does not happen. Once at room temperature, bacteria can grow rapidly. In emergency situations like hypotension, active bleeding, it can be transfused much faster as well.

7. First about 10 minutes should be slow transfusion (at about 50-100 ml per hour) to ensure no incompatible blood. However after that, it should be given at about 250 ml per hour – to complete whole unit within 1-2 hours.

8. RCC/PCV should not be given concurrently with other fluids, medicines using same line. It can be given however with normal saline, fresh frozen plasma, or albumin. Not with ringer lactate, dextrose solutions etc. With a multi lumen catheter, such as CVP line, different lumens can be used for other medicines. Preferably first 15 minutes however should be only blood. In case there is any reaction, this helps differentiate source of reaction as blood versus other medicines. August 19th, 2024 Dr Chirag A.
